Dime Bank Slayer Pleads Guilty

Defendant Reversed His Plea Unexpectedly As State Rests Case

HARRISBURG, March 24. — (INS) — Sylvester Smith, 25, on trial for the dime bank slaying of Jacob Ulrich, 32, on Wednesday changed his plea to guilty of murder.

Smith reversed his plea unexpectedly as the state rested its case against the man who took Ulrich to a Harrisburg Park and shot him to death with a German souvenir pistol in an argument for disappearance of $54.50 from Smith's child's dime bank.

Dauphin County Judge Paul G. Smith, hearing his first murder trial since appointment to the bench several months ago, dismissed the jury of six men and six women and prepared to hear defense testimony.

The judge must determine degree of guilt and set the sentence.

As the trial opened the state read Ulrich's death-bed statement in which he said he accepted an invitation from Smith and his wife to go for a ride in a borrowed truck to Wildwood Park.

When they reached the park, Ulrich's statement said Smith accused him of taking the money. Ulrich denied the theft and Smith pulled the pistol from his pocket and fired two shots. One shot missed Ulrich, the other plugged through his chest.

The President and Churchill had been expected to informally exchange their views on developments in the "cold war" with Russia, but they never were alone. They reminisced about the war and the Potsdam conference, but always in the presence of others.

pieces of the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, sponsors of the meeting.

The first arrivals identified themselves as picket committee members, and they carried various placards denouncing Hungary's treatment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty. The placards also carried other anti-Communist messages.

One of the placards depicted Cardinal Mindszenty, imprisoned primate of Hungary, being crucified on a hammer and sickle. Another showed the cardinal behind barbed wire, and it bore the legend: "My enemies can take from me no more than my life, and that has been given to God."

"Thousands" To Demonstrate
The picket organizers said that as the day progressed "thousands" of demonstrators would swell their ranks.

Some spokesmen have predicted the picketing during the three-day meeting would enlist up to one hundred thousand persons.

The police department at first ruled against mass picketing, but then decided not to try to prevent the demonstrations providing there was no interference with street traffic, or any disorder.

In deciding to allow the picketing, Police Commissioner William O'Brien said picketing also may take place at Carnegie Hall, to which the conference moves for business sessions tomorrow, and at Madison Square Garden, where a rally is to be staged Sunday night.

ing blonde dish on the screen, was named the best supporting actress for her roles in "Key Largo".

Two more of the $100 Oscars went to Walter Huston's son John, one for being the finest director of last year and another for the best screen play. All three Huston statues evolved from "Treasure of Sierra Madre".

Miss Wyman, whose real name is Sarah Jane Fuls, wept grateful tears after the ceremony and her current boyfriend, Lew Ayres, himself a nominee for the best actor, kissed her consolingly.

The jukebox favorite of the nation's bobby-sox brigade, a snappy ditty called "Buttons and Bows" and concocted by Jay Livingston and Ray Evans, carried off honors as the best original song of 1948.

Olivier, whose father intended him to be a man of the church, accepted his Oscar by proxy.

The 41-year-old actor, reputed to be one of the greatest thespians in British history, was in London. Loretta Young, the 1947 woman winner, presented the award to Olivier's representative.

LABOR BUREAU OF REPORTS DROP IN COST OF LIVING

February 15, the greatest tumble in nine years. The BLS index at that time, however, still stood at 169 per cent of the prewar average.

The bureau said that this marked the fifth consecutive month that the cost of living prices have dropped.

Several government economists have said that April will tell the story as to whether business will slide further into a rather prolonged recession or recover some of its lost ground.

He commented most favorably on the high type of men enrolled as members of the 229th units here.

Lt. Col. Mitchell was proud of the way the men conducted themselves for this annual inspection and of the shipshape way in which the officers and men had their equipment and quarters prepared for the event.

"reasonable return on reasonable value," so far as "is practicable." The Senate yielded to the contention of housing expediter Tighe Woods that computing "reasonable values" on some thirteen million housing units would be a costly and overwhelming task.

Senate Position
Instead, the Senate voted to allow a 5 per cent increase next Oct. 1, and a second 5 per cent boost on April 1, 1950.

Those who apply in full only where no area-wide increases have been granted since July 1, 1947.

Another Senate provision expected to be adopted would decontrol luxury apartments renting for more than $250 a month.

It appeared unlikely that the conference would be tied up long over the rent increase issue.

Heading the conferees are Senate banking chairman Maybank (D) S. C. and House banking chairman Spence (D) Ky.

BATTLE FLOOD IN LOUISIANA

the area and officials expressed fear rains might send the waters dangerously higher.

Three temporary levees were thrown up to protect the Mississippi river town but only one still was intact last night. Deputy Sheriff H. L. Oncal said:

"If that holds, we are all right." Army engineers reported last night that the level of the river, which has a flood stage of 35 feet, was receding slowly. They said the morning high of 33.5 feet had dropped to 33.3 feet during the day. Engineers said that the levee, which has resisted a 38-foot stage in 1945, had been scheduled for repairs during the summer.

Spring Fever Or Something

OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

Blame it on spring fever or some other world shaking event.

Business is off in the court house. Way off as a matter of fact.

From the front end of the building to the back end the offices are almost deserted of customers most of the day. The register and recorder's office is almost current with its transfers and record which in itself is an indication.

Marriage license applications

ACCOUNTS AUDITED

Auditor General G. Harold Wag-

of Orphans Court John A. Edgar for 1947.

The transactions and tax value of each include 428 writs, $214;
111 judgments, $255.50; 27 tran-

LAWYERS' "CLOSED SHOPS"

So-called "closed shops" for attorneys were ruled illegal Thursday by the Pennsylvania supreme court sitting in Pittsburgh.

A special order of the high court outlawed any and all local rules requiring length of residence as a prerequisite to practicing law. It also banned limiting the number of admissions on a quota basis.

Admission to any court in the commonwealth henceforth makes admission to any other court subject only to the right of the particular examining board to pass upon the moral character of the applicant.

The applicant is required, however, to promise in writing to establish his principal office in the county to which he seeks admission.

The ruling stipulates that the applicant, if denied admission on moral grounds, may appeal to the state board of examiners, and if the decision is still adverse, to the state supreme court.

VA Plans To Eliminate 1400 Hospital Beds In Pennsylvania, Branded 'Arbitrary'

WASHINGTON, March 25.—
(INS)—The Veterans Administration plan to eliminate 1,400 hospital beds in Pennsylvania was assailed by Hiram V. Hartman, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He branded it "arbitrary" and said it was based on "hastily conceived" policy, in a statement prepared for delivery before a senate sub-committee scrutinizing the VA hospital program.

The VA ordered curtailment of the hospital program throughout the nation and Hartman charged
"we do know the basis for the reduction is the Hoover commission's report".

The proposed slash in hospital facilities also was slated to be opposed by representatives of the Pennsylvania health, welfare and military affairs departments.

The VA orders called for complete abandonment of a 200-bed hospital at Harrisburg. A 1,250-bed hospital at Pittsburgh was cut to 750 while a 1000-bed facility at Philadelphia was pruned to 500.

Have Fewer Beds

"We have the second largest veteran population in the nation yet we have comparatively fewer beds than any other state," said Hartman. "This is illogical, even using the Veterans Administration ratio of beds to veteran population."

"Frankly I do not believe the Veterans Administration fully realized the implications of its arbitrary action in reducing the number of beds in Pennsylvania," Hartman declared.

He urged the sub-committee to call on the VA to abandon its curtailment program.

Hartman said "veteran population which has always determined the necessity for the hospitals, apparently is to be discarded".

NOSTALGIA AND NOSTRUMS

It no longer is necessary, says the Colorado Medical Society, to take sulphur and molasses in the spring. According to the learned physicians, modern science, which makes it possible to get fresh fruits and vegetables all winter, has eliminated the necessity for spring tonics. Thus passes another great institution.

Medically speaking, the Colorado society is right, no doubt. But, in so glibly passing the death sentence on the spring tonic custom, the medicos overlooked the fact that to Americans of the older generation, sulphur and molasses was more than a nasty-tasting concoction which mother mixed up and distributed with a firm hand from an iron spoon while the kids made wry faces and held their noses.

Sulphur and molasses was a symbol of the passing of the season of runny noses, wet feet and sore throat. It heralded the arrival of the time when the children could shed their long, itchy underwear. It meant that the willows are beginning to turn green down along the creek and were ready to cut for whistles and pea shooters. It meant that going-barefoot time was only a few weeks away and that going-swimming time would follow within a reasonable interval after that.

It meant that the job of thawing out the pump with a hot teakettle was over for another year—that the job of keeping the coal scuttle full beside the base burner in the livingroom was about completed for another season.

Most oldsters probably have forgotten how sulphur and molasses tastes. Nature has a way of robbing memories of unpleasant things. But they have not forgotten the joyous associations which went with the appearance of the brown bottle and the old iron spoon.

With sulphur and molasses gone, the younger generation will never fully appreciate what the coming of spring—officially announced by the iron spoon—can mean to youthful hearts.

CANADA CUTS TAXES

Sweeping tax cuts announced by Canada's Finance Minister Douglas Abbott when he introduced the new budget will come as welcome news to the Dominion's taxpayers. Taxes on everything from incomes to chocolate bars are reduced.

Income tax exemptions for unmarried persons have been raised to $1,000 and for married persons to $2,000. In the United States these figures are $600 and $1,200, respectively. A married man in Canada, with no children, will now pay income taxes of only $1,660 on an income of $10,000.

Excise taxes in Canada, on items such as jewelry and luggage have been reduced to 10 per cent. In the United States they remain at 20 per cent.

How long Washington can maintain the present tax rates, in the face of these reductions in Canada, is a question that is worrying tax-spending politicians. Before the war taxes in Canada were higher than in the United States.

In addition to these great reductions in taxes, Canada has reduced its national debt $1,624,000,000 in the last three years. The Dominion's debt now stands at $11,797,000,000.

The tax burden is this country's No. 1 problem. Excessive taxes played a great part in the postwar inflation and are now responsible for buyers' resistance to high prices. The truth is that no country can long be prosperous when taxes take a large bite out of national income as they do in this country.

LOMAKIN'S CAREER

Former Soviet Consul General Lomakin left the United States by request last August after the State Department accused him of making false statements about the affair of Mrs. Kosenkina, the school teacher who jumped from the window of his consulate.

The State Department is too practical to expect to get the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth from any diplomatic representative or any Russian citizen in good standing. But there are limits.

Lomakin is now back home, where his exceptional talents have more scope. He made the most of his opportunity last week by telling visitors from Korea that the United States has the world's worst censorship.

The American press promptly published Lomakin's statement.

American news agency correspondents in Moscow are not permitted contact with any news source whatever. The Tass correspondents in Washington attends the President's press conferences. Dispatches sent by Americans from Moscow not only are changed as the censor pleases, but they are then forwarded to his newspaper without letting him see whether his meaning has been revised.

It is not hard to see why Lomakin, who formerly was a Russian "journalist," should have a great career ahead of him under the present government of Russia.

The "parliament" in Moscow recently tackled the problem of how the nation can get more fish, especially herring. Well the Red propagandists are doing their best to land suckers all over the world.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Secretary of State Dean Acheson's stout defense of United States activities in Tehran and an Australian move toward a Pacific defense pact foreshadowed today possible new American security measures in various parts of the world.

In repudiating Soviet charges of aggressive American military designs in Iran, Acheson said pointedly that no formal suggestions for a Pacific alliance paralleling the Atlantic Pact have been put forward.

But he did not rule out the possibility. And it was revealed in Melbourne that Australian External Minister Herbert Vere Evatt will visit Washington shortly to discuss such a measure.

There is no question that Australia and New Zealand believe that decisive steps are required by the world powers to aid them in self defense.

Have Vivid Memories

Both nations have vivid memories of the Japanese fleet when it had almost a free rein in the Southwest Pacific and the regard it as something of a miracle that their soil was not invaded.

There was turmoil close to panic a few weeks ago when U. S. Army Secretary Kenneth Royall was quoted as saying that Japan would not be defended in event of attack. Royall disclaimed the statement but the report nevertheless made a deep impression and has speeded up an armament plan designed to make Australia the arsenal of the British commonwealth of nations.

Australia is extremely anxious that there be no decrease in American military strength anywhere in the Pacific. Communist gains in China's civil war inevitably have served to aggravate her fears. Small in population and weak militarily despite the tremendous calibre of her individual soldiers, Australia recognized that her safety hinges in large measure upon the speed with which the U. S. Navy and Air Force could come to her aid in event of attack.

May Extend Pact

Extension of the North Atlantic Pact to the Pacific along the same imaginary line of the Tropic of Cancer that forms the former agreement's base would place Australia and New Zealand in a veritable zone of safety.

It would, in point of fact, embrace all Indonesia as well. The Philippines Islands would be converted into a major defense base safeguarding southeast Asia.

Sponsors of the North Atlantic Pact undoubtedly have taken into consideration the pacifying effects of such a new regional agreement. Holland has failed to wipe out allegedly Communist-inspired disorders in the Dutch East Indies, Burma and Thailand are in a constant state of upheaval.

Any disturbance of this sort has immediate repercussions on Australia and New Zealand, which want only to progress and prosper in an atmosphere of peace.

Not Aggression

Eloquent at all times and gifted in his choice of words, Acheson made a supreme bid to disabuse Russia of its conviction that American defensive measures against a global war signify aggression.

He said that such a belief "can rest only on a malicious misrepresentation or a fantastic misunderstanding of the nature and aims of American society."

In obvious reference to populations many thousands of miles removed from the Pacific, he said:

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SENSE OF HUMOR HELPS PARENTS

Children usually find parents with a keen sense of humor pretty easy to live with.

Barring the few cases of insanity from organic causes, I can't imagine a person growing mentally ill who has a keen and wholesome sense of humor, really sensitive to funny things as they happen.

A good sense of humor causes a person to relax more, to fret and worry less and to further peace of mind in others. On the other hand, when a person is all tense, jittery, fearful, anxious and worried his sense of humor hardly is very keen.

In this column we have emphasized the value of working on ourselves for peace and serenity so as to provide a favorable family atmosphere for the child. Obviously, the more we are masters of our emotions the better we should be able to cultivate a sense of humor. When we are relaxed we are the more ready to observe the funny things that arise, to enjoy them and to help others to enjoy them. It is not just a matter of time but also a matter of where our attention is focused or whether it is focused anywhere for an appreciable time.

Against a Watch

When the commuting father is eating his breakfast against a watch his sense of humor is pretty dull. Should another member of the family then pause to enjoy something funny, this father may be irritated, for if he lolled to laugh he might miss the 8:22 train. There could be more smiles at his breakfast if he rose fifteen minutes earlier each morning.

The whole family are at dinner. Dad must hurry to his club. Mother to her civic meeting. Catherine to her Camp Fire Girls. Donny to his Cub Scouts. And the radio may be bellowing, too. Not much place for humor there. Even if no member of the family must rush off to a meeting, everybody may feel hurried and tense at the dinner hour just from habit.

See a Smile

What about the nervous adult always in a hurry regardless of how little he has to do, always telling how very busy he is? And the nervous, jittery child, three, eight or thirteen? How often do you see a moved from Broadway or the White House, Acheson said. "It is our policy to help free peoples to maintain their integrity and independence, not only in Western Europe or the Americas, but wherever the aid we are able to provide can be effective."

As Acheson spoke, British Minister of State Hector McNell addressed the House of Commons. He said that Anglo-American aid to Greece against the Communist-led guerrillas will continue and he hinted at extension of this assistance which he said will be discussed between Acheson and Bevin.

McNell did not say what form this additional aid may take. But his defense of Anglo-American military policies and the clear, concise declarations of Secretary Acheson make it amply clear that the Allies will not be dissuaded from their course by Soviet complaints or Communist propaganda.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A reader in Bridgeport, Ohio, finds my column very interesting and never misses a single one.

"But I do think that you write just a little bit too much about your alimentary canal."

"And yet, I find that I have become very much interested in your aches and pains, because so many of us have similar aches and pains."

That's just it.

When I write about my alimentary canal I use it only as a typical alimentary canal.

"And yet, I find that I have become very much interested in your aches and pains, because so many of us have similar aches and pains."

I could easily write about seemingly more important things than alimentary canals.

But would they really be more important?

The front page of your paper today will be full of "important" things.

There will be some more trouble with Russia, some more strikes, a few murders, all sorts of doings in Congress, and several other big items.

Most of them will be unpleasant, because it's the unpleasant stuff that makes the biggest news.

So then I come along with my alimentary canal stuff, and I hope I cheer you up a little.

Many a time you have been annoyed and worried and mad as the dickens at the whole world, and then comes that welcome call from your wife:

"Dinner's ready."

So the boss was nasty to you. So you didn't get that raise. So they didn't deliver that promised carload of winches at your plant.

"Dinner's ready."

The whole world may have smelled to heaven all day long.

But right now all you smell is that wonderful corned beef that nobody but your wife knows how to make.

You inhale that delicious aroma of your cup of coffee, and taste that home-baked apple pie.

You eat your dinner—and at the present moment nothing in the whole wide world is more important and more pleasant than that alimentary canal of yours.

Let me tell you something, my dear Bridgeport, Ohio, friend: Try to get along without your alimentary canal.

Pay a lot of attention to the front pages of your daily newspaper but neglect your alimentary canal.

You know what's going to happen to you?

After a while you will cease to be that important human being you think you are, and you will be nothing more than just a four or five-line notice in the obituary column of that very same newspaper.

And even that for only one day! (Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

BIBLE THOUGHT

Every morning doth he bring his justice to light, he faileth not. — Zeph. 3:5.

Dilemmas confront the compositor when he sees something in the copy that does not appear as it should be. If it is an out and out misspelling of a common word, of course, he spells it correctly . . . But soon comes another word, misspelled, yet the intended word is not clear. Did he mean horse, when he wrote "harse"? No, it turns out he meant hearse.

Sometimes logic seems on the side of the printer, yet he is all wrong. "The masonry was pointed by the company painter," says the copy. Many a conscientious keyboard man would change painter to pointer, then discover that no such term is recognized and that painters often perform tasks of caulking and pointing . . . It is to be feared that writers often fail to appreciate the printer's efforts to save him from himself. The compositor may have corrected half a dozen slips in spelling and punctuation, but if he makes a mistaken alteration in the best of conscience, the writer is apt to growl. "Why can't those fool printers follow copy?"

Many compositors are men of wide information. There was one once who had been chief editorial writer of a big city paper. Distressed by inability to express his true views, he left the editorial desk and went back to the "case," which he had learned as a boy . . . and he once remarked that it always imposed a strain on his position to handle copy in which historical or economic facts were mis-stated . . . and so it is with many of our compositors today. Once in a while the writers warmly thank them for saving them from an inadvertent error.

Big City Noise Eliminator

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

History Is Repeating Itself

WASHINGTON, March 25.—It is like seeing an old newsreel played over again. History does repeat itself and in a strikingly exact sort of way.

Unless the new rent control bill is drastically rewritten in conference between the two houses, which at this moment seems unlikely, President Truman is going to be faced with a tough decision. The question—to veto or not to veto—is like the one he faced when Congress passed and sent to the White House in 1946 a bill cutting the heart out of OPA.

The President vetoed the first bill renewing OPA in such an enfeebled fashion that, as he said in his veto message, it was worse than nothing. The second he signed when his leaders in the Senate and House told him he could get nothing better and it was sign or let OPA die.

That, it will be recalled, was when the enemies of OPA were insisting that decontrol would inevitably mean lower prices. For 18 days, before the second emasculated measure became law, there were no controls. They were never effectively restored and the cost of living began to soar upward.

Same Kind Of Talk

A lot of the same kind of double talk has come out in connection with rent control. The President's chief advisers are supplying him with facts which they believe show (1) that the net effect of Senate and House decontrol amendments is to shatter rent control and (2) that the shattering of rent control will further throw the nation's economy out of balance.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

The voice of America is now putting out the President's speeches in Persian and that's the way Congress appears to be getting them.

But Harry just keeps smiling and saying "Fine body of men—fine body of men."

And he may be right that there is no "basic disagreement" between himself and Congress . . . it may just be general.

Anyway right now we're busy with the cultural and scientific congress in New York . . . It's a new pyramid club without doughnuts.

Each member is supposed to bring two friends or two aliases.

The state department refused to let in some delegates for fear of espionage but the imports couldn't do any more harm than our native malcontents.

They Say

ITHACA, N. Y.—Dr. E. G. Nourse, chairman of President Truman's council of economic advisers . . . "This year is looked upon as a prosperous but not an inflationary year."

NEW YORK.—Gen. Leslie Kincaid, ex-military governor of Naples, returning from a re-visit to Italy . . . "I was impressed by the deep concern of Pope Pius . . . when I've talked with him years past, he has never discussed his feelings for Russia. This time, he mentioned communism four times, shook his head, and was extremely grave."

CHAPEL, N. C.—Dr. Frank Graham, newly appointed senator from North Carolina. "I am not a Communist, never have been a Communist and never shall be one. I'm willing to be investigated by anybody."

LONDON.—Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary . . . "We must try to exercise our rights under Balkan treaties. If we are going to be denied—as we have been denied as part of the policy of Russia—I quite agree that the western countries must reconsider their whole position."

FIRST BIRTHDAY
Of all the phrases mortals say
With smiling lips and eyes
aglow,
This is the happiest I know:
"The baby's one year old today!"

The months have swiftly flown away!
There is no rapture to excel
The joy of them who proudly tell:
"The baby's one year old today!"

Come many birthdays, as they may,
The first seems best beyond a doubt.
That's why I spread the news about:

An Atlantic Federation?

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—Not much more than a one-day splash was caused by the launching of the latest World State movement—the Committee for a Federal Union of North Atlantic Democracies.

Its chief sponsors, former Justice Roberts of the Supreme Court and former Secretary Patterson of the late War Department, held a routine Washington press conference in a hotel parlor where they explained the project. The story made the next day's papers and then sank into the tossing waters of the capital's newswest season.

Whole Story Behind Story
But there is a whole story behind this story. Early this year Justice Roberts and others met in New York and made ready to announce their scheme. It called for a convention of delegates from the nations which are expected to become members of the Atlantic Pact. These delegates were to draw up a constitution for a Federal Union, much like our own, with common citizenship, currency and a central government of the member states. This plan would carry far beyond the North Atlantic Pact, a mere set of military treaties, which Mr. Truman mentioned in his Inaugural Address.

But the State Department (Mr. Acheson went into office on Inauguration Day) took a dim view of the Federal Union plan—at least of its timing. By request, Justice Roberts and his committee postponed their announcement until the North Atlantic Pact should be tested for political and popular approval.

All Rivalry Has Been Denied
At and since the Roberts-Patterson press conference all rivalry between the Federal Union and the Atlantic Pact has been denied. Yet it is true that some of the thinking which gave birth to the Union was anti-Pact. One distinguished proponent of Federal Union told your correspondent that grave doubts were felt toward the saber-rattling foreign policy of the Administration. Recent rattlings include the globe-circling flight of a B-50 bomber, announcements that our B-36's were ready to bomb Russian targets from unattainable altitudes, trial-balloon statements that we need to arm as well as to sign up out of North Atlantic partners. All of it, going clear back to the Truman Doctrine for Greece and Turkey, sounds like war-mongering to Russia and the world, no matter how we explain and justify it at home. Clarence Streit, best known of the several world federalizers, has endorsed the Federal Union idea. But he has his reservations about the Pact. Streit has repeatedly pointed out that military alliances have never yet guaranteed victory, much less peace. He has shown that all democracies break military alliances when a peace party comes to power.

Another Bone Of Contention
Another bone of contention between Federal Union and the Atlantic Pact lies half-buried in interpretations of the United Nations Charter. Secretary Acheson has several times protested that the Pact, including the proposed arms assistance, falls within the meaning of the Charter. Article 51 allows for collective self-defense "if an armed attack occurs against a member of the UN, until the Security Council has taken measures necessary to maintain international peace and security." Article 52 allows for regional pacts, "provided that such arrangements or agencies and their activities are consistent with the purposes and principles of the UN." Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the UN, made an interesting statement on these subjects last month. While declining specific discussion of the Atlantic Pact, he said: "If people generally began to accept alliances as a substitute for genuine, worldwide collective security, then the hope of a lasting peace would be greatly damaged."

Federal Unionists look upon their movement as a long step toward a World State, the ultimate in collective security. Their unspoken criticism of the Pact is that it pays only lip-service to the UN Charter. Some think that the proposed armament features of the Pact have doubtful validity under Clauses 51 and 52.

No Head-on Collision Expected
No head-on collision is expected between the Union and the Pact. Much of the two memberships overlap. The general aims are identical. Yet the existence of the Federal Union scheme is an implied criticism of military alliances. To that extent there is a difference of principle at stake.

Right now the Federal Unionists want money and publicity. They have engaged the services of a New York fund-raiser and speak of needing about $250,000 for the rest of the year's work. And they have their eyes on two world figures to set at the head of their movement. One is General Eisenhower, but he is not available until he leaves his present assignment with the National Military Establishment. The other is Winston Churchill who is in this country. One of Mr. Churchill's engagements is a dinner given him by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luce of Time, Inc. Mrs. Luce is a member of the Federal Union committee.

JOBS UPON A TIME

ROBERT R. YOUNG, noted railroad man, was born Feb. 14, 1897, in Canadian, Tex., the son and grandson of bankers. His education completed, he refused to go to work in the family bank, and instead got a job in a rifle powder plant in New Jersey. He became interested in the investment field. In 1933 he and a partner, Frank F. Kolbe, began buying into control of Allegheny corporation which controlled the St. Lawrence river road, properties through Allegheny he gained control of the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Nickel Plate and the Pere Marquette railroads. He also became interested in the motion picture industry. His battle with Wall Street made financial history.

ROGER HORNSBY, retired second baseman, is regarded by baseball fans as the greatest right-handed batter of all time. Born in Winters, Tex., in 1896, he broke into baseball with the Hugo-Denison club of the Texas-Oklahoma league in 1914, but he didn't stay there long. The St. Louis Cardinals grabbed him in 1915, and overnight he became a major league star. In addition to a lifetime major league batting average of .358, he also managed the Cards (to a pennant), the Boston Braves and the Chicago Cubs.

There were a good many wars—civil wars—among the particular peoples that the original kings governed, particularly, among the English people. A part of the powers of the king was to make and pass laws designating the duties of the fellow tribesmen. This sort

Charge Russia Fears Consequences Of Cultural Exchange

State Department Makes Charge To Russia After Four Years Of Refusal

WASHINGTON, March 25. — (INS) — The State Department charged Thursday that Russia refuses to take part in any cultural exchange with the United States because it fears to have the Soviet people realize the failures of 30 years of Communism.

The charge was made in a 36-page document detailing the unsuccessful efforts of the past four years to establish an exchange of students, professors, literature and the arts and sciences. The report concluded that these efforts have been persistently rejected.

Only at the end of 1948, the department said, did the Soviet Union take an open position of flat refusal to indulge in any cultural exchange whatever.

The publication was inspired seemingly by the imminent arrival in the United States of 21 cultural leaders from behind the iron curtain to attend the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace. The meeting opens in New York today.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

of thing caused wars to be a natural part of their lives. Younger brothers sought to be king and in the course of events there arose in the tribe another strong man who wanted to be king and he was willing to fight for it.

In the course of human events, other sections of the community said, "Away with kings, we don't want them. We will govern ourselves." Eventually, the winner of one of these civil wars ceased to be known as king. He was just recognized as a dictator. Thence, through the years we have come to a Hitler, a Stalin and a Roosevelt.

On the way through, Cyrus ruled the Persians; Alexander, the Macedonians (a Greek) at one time ruled the world; Kublai-Khan ruled the Chinese; a Caesar commanded the Romans; Ivan the Terrible ruled the Russians; Charlemagne (Charles, the master) who was nominally a Spaniard although actually born in The Netherlands, ruled most of Europe; Napoleon, the Corsican posing as a French man, ruled most of Europe.

No Great After Napoleon

I have named the great world conquerors, but after Napoleon there were no great names that could be associated with absolute power over extended areas. We had the Hohenzollern family for a brief duration in Germany, Austria, Hungary and Russia. They have all passed away just as did the Mongolians under the Empress of China. There have been aspirants for universal rule. There was Philip II of Spain, who did not last long. The English, under Queen Elizabeth, decisively defeated the Spanish Armada. The Borgia family ruled pretty decisively for two or three centuries in Italy and in France, and there were the Venetians with their Doges.

The world has been ruled at various times by men from Asia and Europe, Africa, South America and North America have not produced a world leader and it remained for Russia, Germany and the United States to take part in the last great struggle for supreme power in this world. Of these, Russia and the United States are the sole survivors.

Dime Bank Slayer Awaits Sentence

HARRISBURG, March 25. — (INS) — Sylvester Smith, 25, awaited sentence for the second degree murder of Jacob Ulrich last November in an argument over a child's dime bank.

Smith switched his plea to guilty and threw himself on the mercy of the court. Dauphin County Judge Paul G. Smith ruled he was guilty of second degree murder and deferred sentence.

Second degree murder carries a maximum jail term of 10 to 20 years although a shorter penalty may be set.

Smith changed his plea as the state closed its case. The judge cleared the court and heard testimony from a dozen character witnesses.

Judge Smith in the decision declared the slaying of Ulrich did not appear to be willfully done.

Mindszenty Reported As Physical Wreck

Anonymous Hungarian Informants Report Mindszenty Suffering Severe Reaction

VIENNA, March 25. — (INS) — Hungarian refugee sources in Vienna reported today that imprisoned Josef Cardinal Mindszenty is suffering severe reaction "as a result of drugs administered" before and during his trial.

The informants, who insisted on remaining anonymous, reported prison guards as saying that Mindszenty is in a state of "psychological collapse" and wanders about dejectedly, his mouth open and his tongue lolling.

A doctor was quoted as saying that the Cardinal is a "physical wreck" and has developed uncontrollable spasms in his left leg.

Hope To Alleviate Water Nuisance

Street employees working under the supervision of Director James Gibson, removed some of the amiesite top along the east curb in East street, near Water street, in an effort to eliminate a water nuisance during every rainstorm. There is no storm sewer in East street. Consequently water pours from North street toward Neshannock avenue, and it some times is almost as high as the curb. Autos traveling north, through East street, when driven fast, splash water on pedestrians.

By removing some of the amiesite for a distance of 18 inches from the curb it will allow water to flow more quickly into the catch basin at East street and Neshannock avenue.

smile on their faces? How often do you see them laugh? (My bulletins, "The Nervous Child" and "The Nervous, Jittery Mother," may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

On the other hand, it's wonderful when each child and parent often lolls, especially at mealtime, and when there is an exchange of personal experiences, every person relating some, particularly some that are funny.

In any family assembly the atmosphere can grow dull or tense. If a poised member of the family then thinks of the right remark to bring laughter it can be magical. Sometimes our own children or their mother used a magic wand in this way. For instance, on one family dinner occasion when matters were getting tense, an adolescent son said, "What a family!" Everybody laughed uproariously. The trouble is we take ourselves so seriously and our children don't.

Many tensions and quarrels between wife and husband or parent and adolescent child would vanish if either could see how funny he or she has been. But at the time we are not likely to have any sense of humor at all. I guess we need to cultivate a sense of humor when we are emotionally well if we are to have any to use when we are emotionally sick.

To many a parent I have written: "The sense of humor revealed in your letter can 'carry you through'."

amendment would create an almost hopeless administrative tangle. The big landlords with large resources of wealth would be able to stop any tenant protests in the courts. The little landlord, not having such resources and in many cases really needing relief, would not get it.

Faced with the March 31 deadline, when rent controls expire, the administration has shown extraordinary bad timing. Bringing up the civil-rights issue at the start of the session precipitated the southern filibuster. That was ready-made for the persistent, powerful, tireless real estate lobby.

Millions of families are watching anxiously to see what Congress does about rent control. They may not understand the talk about states decontrolling or cities decontrolling. But they will certainly understand when the landlord hikes the rent 10 per cent or 25 per cent. They will know that postwar history is repeating itself in a peculiarly grim and unpleasant fashion.

Richard Hanna Back From Mock Invasion

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Hanna, of 510 Blaine street, received a phone message from their son, Richard Hanna F-1c, stationed at Norfolk, Va., saying he had newly arrived from Havana, Cuba. He was with the fleet, on a mock invasion of an island off Puerto Rico, and was in those waters for about three weeks. Richard is attached to the U.S.S. Palau, an aircraft carrier.

His brother, Charles Hanna, F.A., is aboard the U.S.S. Newport News, a heavy cruiser, which was recently commissioned, and stationed at Norfolk. The brothers had not met for several months, but as the Palau was docking, she pulled alongside Charles ship, and there was a joyous reunion of the boys.

Efforts are being made, in conjunction with the commanding officer and chaplain, to have the brothers serving on the same ship.

Y.W.C.A. Board Announces Plans

National YWCA Week To Be Held Last Week Of April; Program Is Underway

Thursday evening the board of directors of the Young Women's Christian Association met for its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Paul F. Butz, 217 East Lincoln avenue.

The worship service was led by Miss Stewart, who reported on the worship services led at convention by Rev. Howard Thurman, co-pastor of The Church for the Fellowship of All Peoples in San Francisco.

New officers and chairmen assumed their duties, including Mrs. J. Edward Everett, recording secretary, and Miss Helen White, treasurer. Reports were heard from committee chairmen as follows: finance, Mrs. John E. Elliott; religious education, Mrs. George D. Morris; membership, Mrs. C. M. England; Elm Street YW, Mrs. James A. Gillespie; house, Mrs. W. Russell Allen; classes and nursery, Mrs. A. B. Foster; B. and P. program, Mrs. Bruce Headland; Y-Teen program, Mrs. Earl J. Smith; camp, Mrs. Harold Glenn.

The Young Adult group, which has been meeting in the YW, will continue under the direction of Miss Betty Jane Metzner, director of adult program.

Up to the present time the Business and Professional Girls department has been a separate one from the Industrial Girls. Last night action was taken to merge these two into one department and call it the B. P. and I. department.

A number of board women will meet with Mrs. Moorehead on Tuesday at 10 o'clock to fill in a questionnaire related to the visit of Miss Blanche Best, a national secretary, who was in New Castle in an advisory capacity recently.

Mrs. Arthur B. Foster, chairman of the All-Association program, will meet in the very near future to make initial plans for National YWCA Week, which will be held the last week of April.

The YW board expressed its desire that the Central Presbyterian church use the YW building at any time that it is convenient to both parties. The house and finance committees are to talk the matter over with representatives from the church.

Mrs. Roy A. Long, chairman of personnel, announced a meeting of her committee for Thursday at 1:30 p. m.

The YW staff joined the board to hear reports from convention. Mrs. Moorehead touched on the highlights and told about recommendations which had been passed concerning the basic standards for affiliation, national support and public affairs.

An event of a social nature was held during the remainder of the evening, honoring Mrs. C. M. England, outgoing president, and Mrs. Bradford Williams, new Eunice Jackson, executive at the Elm Street YWCA since October 1947. Mrs. Williams was married this past November and plans now to establish her home at 634 Paulson street, Pittsburgh 6, beginning April 1. Mrs. John Elliott presented a gift to Mrs. England and Mrs. Moorehead presented one to Mrs. Williams, both from the board and staff.

Delicious refreshments were served by the committee which included Mrs. George D. Morris, Mrs. Frank Burton, Mrs. Paul F. Butz, Mrs. John E. Elliott, Mrs. J. Edward Everett and Mrs. Arthur B. Foster.

London Editor Draws Sentence

LONDON, March 25.—(INS).—The editor of the London Daily Mirror drew a three-month jail term today and its publishers were fined $40,000 for printing unprivileged material in the case of John Haigh, Britain's suspected "acid-bath killer."

Haigh, 40, had sought a writ of attachment against the London tabloid for a story printed on March 4 describing him as a "vampire murderer" and linking him inferentially with six alleged murders under investigation by Scotland Yard.

Conditions In Hungary Are Getting Tighter

Two U. S. Military Attaches,
Expelled From Hungary,
Tell Of Conditions

VIENNA, March 25.—(INS)—Two United States military attaches in Budapest, expelled from Hungary on 48 hours notice, arrived in Vienna Thursday and reported that conditions in that Soviet satellite are "getting tighter all the time".

They are U. S. Army Lt. Col. Peter Kopesak and John Merrill, who flatly denied Hungarian intimations they had been involved in espionage activities.

Kopesak, of Greensburg, Pa., a West Point all-American football star in 1932-33, said he was followed almost constantly by four men for more than a year.

Merrill, who comes from Bethesda, Md., said:

"It was never so important. There never were less than two or three trailing me."

Glad To Leave

Both said they were glad to leave Hungary. Merrill continued: "The only two ladies I want to see now are my wife and the Statue of Liberty."

Both were involved with Hungarian security police near the Yugoslav border on Feb. 10 when they were accused of entering a restricted area and taking pictures.

Some quarters expressed belief their expulsion had been delayed in the hope the U. S. would order their recall, eliminating the risk of retaliation. Other sources speculated that refusal of the U. S. to grant visas to some eastern European delegates to the cultural conference in New York may have been responsible for the deportations.

Concerning the Hungarian charges, Merrill said:

"It is absolutely untrue that we were taking pictures or were any place where our documents did not authorize us to be. This can be stated categorically."

He displayed photographic copies of a Hungarian pass valid until Dec. 1, 1950, permitting travel to any place in Hungary.

The men said their quarters in Hungary were searched frequently and that they often returned to find their effects in disarray.

House Move To Kill Increase In Mileage Reported

HARRISBURG, March 25.—(INS)—A move was underway in the House today to kill a Senate-approved measure increasing traveling allowances of Pennsylvania's lawmakers by an estimated $100,000.

A House leader indicated that a motion will be offered during Monday's session to sidetrack the bill by having it recommitted to the House state government committee.

Reaction of the House membership to such a motion is uncertain. Opposition to the proposal is expected to crystallize Monday when the bill will be laid open to debate.

The bill, approved in the Senate by a unanimous 50-0 vote, would increase mileage allowances of the commonwealth's 238 assemblymen from five cents a mile to 10 cents a mile. It originated in the Senate under the sponsorship of majority leader John M. Walker (R), Allegheny.

Unless recommitted, the measure is due for final passage by the House next Tuesday.

Report Communist Agents Ordered To Expand Operations

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(INS)—House spy probes revealed today that they possess secret espionage orders from abroad instructing communist agents in the United States to expand their operations.

This disclosure was made along with the House un-American Activities Committee warning that 825,000 communist party members and fellow travelers in the U. S. would act as "spies, traitors and saboteurs" in event of a national crisis.

A committee report, the first issued this session, said that the secret orders listed more than 20 types of information concerning U. S. military strength which were wanted.

NOTE BUYING RESISTANCE TO WOMEN'S GARMENTS

Who says women take clothing offered to them in the stores without resistance? The fall season of 1948 was hailed by manufacturers and advertisers as a "dress season," after several seasons when suits were top sellers. But not so many dresses were sold as had been expected. This was learned after 650 women living in New York and suburban areas were questioned.

One-third of these women indicated they did not buy dresses because the dresses cost too much. When they looked at cheaper garments they found often these they didn't want to buy them either. Another one-third of the women didn't buy dresses because they didn't like the styles. They thought many of the dresses were too fussy or over-trimmed.

Almost half of the women said they learned to do without new dresses from season to season during the war years and they were willing to keep this up until they could find just what they wanted at a price they could afford to pay.

One-hundred and fifty of the women questioned said they thought they could get more for their money by buying a suit. They felt that one suit worn with different blouses would take the place of two or more dresses.

It was also noted that 173 of these women learned how to get the material and style which they liked by either making their dresses, having them made, or by remodeling their old dresses into new styles.

Swedish Labor Officials Visit Shenango Pottery

Group Here Under Auspices Of Economic Cooperation Administration

Five Swedish labor union officials from Sweden were escorted on a complete tour of the Shenango Pottery company on Tuesday. The group of labor officials is in this country under the auspices of the Economic Cooperation Administration.

They are: Carl Lindell, representative of the Federation of Factory Workers in Sweden; Evald Johansson, representative of the United Organization of Coal and Clay Miners; J. V. Kumbler, representative of the Federation of Paper Industry Workers; Birger Ohqvist, representative of the Swedish roller bearing factories; and Sture Lindblad, a member of the Board of Trade Union of Stockholm Long Shoremans.

The five officials are a part of a group of 12 men who are touring this country, and visiting American industrial cities, viewing the production methods.

Given Welcome
They were extended a warm welcome by the United Steelworkers of America representatives, Daniel W. Skelly and John H. Grittie; Andrew Pascarella, president of the Local Union No. 3125, and Robert Campbell, a member of the production committee.

Accompanying the officials on the tour were Brown Zahner and Thomas Dickey, personnel directors of the Shenango Pottery company.

In unison the officials declared simply that the methods used in manufacturing vitrified products is "wonderful." During the tour there was a brief intermission at which time luncheon was served at the pottery.

Prior to their visit here, the group was in Washington, D. C., where they visited the CIO headquarters; and conferred with the officials of the Economic Cooperation Administration and the Departments of Labor and Industry. They also attended a luncheon with James B. Carey, secretary of the CIO, and Allan S. Haywood, vice president of CIO, and William Green, president of the A. F. of L. They will journey to Midland, Pa., and rejoin the other seven members of their party, and go on a tour at the Crucible Steel company. They further plan to visit industries in Chicago, Detroit, and Duluth, Minn., while in this country.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER

WHAT WOULD GRANDMA MISS?

If Grandma could come back now after fifty years in the better land what would she miss the most?

Flies. Fifty years ago there were billions of flies. Flies went to church and to school. They patronized the best hotels. They specialized on family reunions and Sunday school picnics.

After harvest on the farm, the women cooked up a big dinner for the "thrashers". It took two strong girls to keep the flies away from the table long enough for the men to eat.

There are still some flies in the country but in town "we don't know nothin'."

You can listen to the sermon without being bothered by even one fly.

If a fly gets into a restaurant they call the police. Columbus started out to find India but he discovered America. Henry Ford started out to make automobiles but he did away with our flies too.

Babson Devotes Attention To Retail Prices Today

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Incorporated

BABSON PARK, Fla., March 25.—We see much in the newspapers and picture magazines about snow in Georgia, freezes in Texas, drought in Florida and floods elsewhere. Readers then wonder why weather conditions do not have more effect on retail prices, either to raise or lower them. Congress men like to point to the fact that farm prices have declined, but there has been little decline in food prices. The reason is that the farmer gets only 15 per cent of the retail price under any conditions. Labor for picking and packing gets 25 per cent, and this has not come down, transportation—trucks and railroads—get 20 per cent and this is increasing; while retailers' rents, wages, waste and other expenses remain the same or are higher. Hence, consumers should not blame the retailers.

Competition of Canned and Frozen Products

When I was a boy in Gloucester, Mass., I peddled vegetables for my grandfather. He made a specialty of beets. In those days, canned beets could not be purchased. Today much better beets can be purchased in cans and for less money.

Why anyone buys stale beets from the stores when they can get truly "fresh" beets in a can! The development of the canning and freezing industry is another factor in the situation.

Having spent every summer of my life, excepting during World War I, in Gloucester, I know something about fish. Of course, the finest fish is that we, ourselves, catch, and fry by the side of the stream. Then only an hour elapses from the time the trout is in the water until it is in our stomach! Otherwise, I much prefer frozen or canned fish. It truly is "fresher" than anything you can get at a fish market. When I buy a whole fish at a store, it is two or three days older than when I buy it frozen or in cans. Some fish, like sardines, which are sealed near shore will be in cans within a few hours from the time they are caught. What price the fishermen get, however, is a small factor in the retail price. This is dependent upon labor costs, transportation costs and rent costs, all of which are surely going up.

Investments For Farmers
Often the farmers have asked me to recommend some investment for their loose money. When prices were low, I have suggested either the American Can company or General Foods which leads in the freezing industry and has a valuable distributing system. I also like merchandising stocks, especially those of established "5 and 10" cent stores, and the good grocery chains.

To my friends in Florida, who have never controlled their surplus crops, I am tempted to say "Sell your grove and re-invest at the right time in the United Fruit company. This concern is now doing with bananas what you for 30 years have failed to do with oranges and grapefruit. It raises, packs, ships, transports and distributes bananas and hence can control the cost and price."

Small Merchant Opportunity

I believe in small sustenance farms, as insurance for people whose income is not dependent upon the land. But I cannot recommend a small farm as a business. Farming, ranching and fruit growing are becoming "big business" whether we like it or not. The present owners of small units will sell out or combine with larger units. Agriculture is going on a factory basis the same as the manufacture of shoes, shirts and bread.

There always will be an opportunity for the small merchant who will live over or near his store and open up before the big stores and keep open later at night. He cannot get rich or become a country-club member, but he can be free from labor worries and many other headaches. Hence, I am much interested in the Small Businessmen's Association which my friend Ernest Gaunt is fathering. This organization is not blaming either the growers or the retailers, but rather the railroads and the labor unions.

First free school in America was established in Dedham, Massachusetts, in 1644.

N.S.A. Chapter Hears Executive

Clara B. Krueger, National Secretary, Speaks On New C.P.S. Program

"Build your local association on merit, be active, for the more you put into it, the more you will gain by it." This piece of advice was given to the New Castle Chapter of National Secretaries Association, Thursday evening, by their national executive secretary, Clara B. Krueger.

The dinner-meeting held in New Wilmington was largely attended. A miniature "spring" bouquet made by member Annella Flecher, marked each place. The N.S.A. prayer was repeated before the meal.

Introduced by President Miss Florence Davis, the speaker continued with interesting and important matters of interest to every N.S.A. member.

The new Certified Professional Secretary program, now being organized, was discussed by Miss Krueger. It is to be sponsored exclusively by N.S.A. Divided into three parts, each secretary will have an opportunity twice a year to take an exam which will or will not qualify her depending upon her own ability to become a member of C.P.S. When she does receive the CPS certificate, it will indicate that she has over all knowledge of her specific work and she can be depended to the utmost in the exercising of her position. Miss Krueger also told of the many duties prevalent at N.S.A. headquarters. "Chairs are made by links," concluded Miss Krueger, "links are friends." And significantly N.S.A. members endeavor to broaden their program with friends.

Reports were given by Lucille Emery, Helen Keder and Olive Webb. The N.S.A. voted to become a member of the G.N.C.A. The rules of a "Miss Secretary" contest were read and also plans by the education committee to set up a scholarship.

Installation of two new members, Miss Mildred Miller and Lulu Kivine was conducted. Miss Davis as installing officer, was assisted by Gertrude Graham, vice-president; and Jean Dixon, membership chairman. The new members were presented with lovely corsages.

Guests attending the meeting last evening were N.S.A. members from Chapters in Youngstown, O., and Sharon, Pa. The respective presidents of these chapters, Lois Shindedecker and Mrs. H. Phillips, made brief remarks.

Miss Krueger visited here while en route to Altoona, Pa., where she will attend the state N.S.A. meeting. Accompanying her to the meeting were President Florence Davis; and corresponding secretary, Olive Webb. April 21, is the next meeting.

Word has been received that Miss Marston Whieldon, who is attending Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C., has been honored having been selected to sing in the school's opera, "The Magic Flute".

has also been selected to sing in the rendition of the oratorio "Elijah", which the school will give during Commencement Week.

War Claims Act Sponsors Want Appropriation

Press For Passage Of $100,000 Appropriation To Start Belated Program

WASHINGTON, March 25—(INS)—Sponsors of the 1948 war claims act to compensate military and civilian prisoners of Axis countries pressed today for passage of a pending $100,000 appropriation to give the program a belated start.

At the same time, Sen. McCarran (D) Nev., asked quick Senate action on his bill extending deadlines on applications. The law was enacted last July, but never started because of lack of funds with which to set up the three-member commission which will administer it.

The benefits to some 35,000 claimants will come from an estimated 294 million dollars in former enemy assets in the hands of the custodian of alien property.

The three-member commission, still unnamed, was to have made its first report to Congress next Thursday.

Lack of funds resulted from failure to get an allocation approved by the House in supplemental since July.

"Here's the way I look at it..."

"There's no sense putting clean oil in a dirty engine. Motor oil's got a big job to do—lubricating the moving parts, providing piston ring seal, and cooling the engine. But it can't do a proper job if it's fouled up with sludge, grit and other harmful accumulations."

"That's why I use CISO SOLVENT. It does a fast-acting job of flushing out power-robbing accumulations from truck and car engines, transmissions and differentials. I've found that with a CISO SOLVENT cleaned engine, and fresh oil added, my car really steps out."

Why not try a CISO SOLVENT treatment... then put in clean motor oil, and notice the difference in your car's performance. You'll enjoy smoother performance—get more miles per gallon—and cut repair bills, too. Your Cities Service Farm Representative has CISO Solvent. Ask him about it.

being fellow passengers with Winston Churchill and party.

Mr. and Mrs. Temenski met the Hardings in New York, bringing them here by auto, travelling on the turnpike, New York to Harrisburg, and home. The visitors enjoyed the motor trip, and marvelled at the tunnels enroute.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding are here on a vacation trip of six months. Mrs. Harding visited here two years ago, and this is Mr. Harding's first trip. He is engaged in the contracting business.

Mr. Temenski met his wife, the former Dorothy E. Harding, during World War Two, while being stationed near Devizes, England, for almost seven months. There was quite a reunion between the Hardings and the Temenskis and two boys 4½ years and 15 months old. The weather was lovely for the trip, folks being able to be on deck every day.

Budenz Will Reveal Details On Red Program

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 25—Former "Daily Worker" Editor Louis Budenz will supply more details today on alleged plans by the U. S. Communist party to participate in a Moscow-directed "world revolution."

Budenz, who broke with communism four years ago to return to the Catholic church, is the first government witness at the conspiracy trial of 11 top U. S. communists. The defendants are accused of advocating and teaching the violent overthrow of the government.

In his first appearance in federal court the balding Budenz, now a professor at Fordham university, declared the party asked him to pledge his loyalty to Premier Stalin as the leader of the world revolution in all countries.

Took Oath In Moscow

He said that several of the defendants took such an oath in Moscow.

Budenz told how, as editor of the "Daily Worker", he had to follow orders based on a program adopted by the 1935 Communist International in Moscow, calling for eventual "armed insurrection" in all capitalistic nations.

He singled out Eugene Dennis and Jacob Stachel, two of the party leaders on trial, as having told him how to run the paper along these lines after they returned from the Soviet capital.

Budenz testified that Dennis and Stachel sat in on staff meetings of the newspaper and were frequently in contact with him from headquarters of the party in New York.

Over strenuous objections by the defense Federal Judge Harold Medina permitted the prosecution to introduce as an exhibit a communist-line book which Budenz said was given to him by Stachel for guidance.

U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey read excerpts from the book, placing special emphasis on such phrases as "the conquest of power by the proletariat".

Budenz then gave the court a thumbnail sketch of his career as a communist and his role as a member of the "Daily Worker" staff.

Legislative pay was increased in at least 16 states in the past two years.

Communist Rally Protested By DAV

PITTSBURGH, March 25—(INS)—The Disabled American Veterans of Allegheny county today protested against a Communist party rally scheduled for Saturday in the northside Pittsburgh Carnegie Music Hall.

John E. F. Burns, DAV county commander, wrote George Selbel, director of Carnegie Hall, demanding that permission for "these moronic agitators" to meet in the hall be cancelled.

The communists have called the protest rally against the trial of 11 communists in New York City.

Other veterans organizations reportedly are drafting similar objections to the communist meeting.

Confluence Child Scalded Fatally

CONFLUENCE, Pa., March 25.—(INS)—Two-year-old Terry Goddard of Confluence was scalded fatally when he tumbled into a vat of boiling maple syrup.

The child's mother, Mrs. Eugene Goddard, said Terry tripped and fell into the boiling liquid after she had removed the tub from the fire.

The maple season is just getting under way in Somerset county.

School Budget Is Tentative

Final Figure Depends Upon Action Taken By General Assembly

Whether the New Castle school budget for 1949-50 exceeds that of 1948-49 by an large amount depends upon the action of the General Assembly.

The New Castle school board has completed a tentative budget for 1949-50 and the total shows $1,728,576. For 1948-49 the total budget was $1,723,760, the difference being less than $5,000.

Merely Tentative
Figures shown for the 1949-50 budget are purely tentative and may be changed several times before final adoption. If the General Assembly increases the salary schedule of teachers, the local school budget will have to be increased by that much.

If the increase is a large one, it looks very much as though the school board would have to increase its receipts by more taxes, either realty, sales or wages.

In the present estimated total of the budget for 1949-50 a temporary loan of $85,000 is included in order to bring the budget into balance.

This does not mean that it will be necessary to borrow $85,000. Receipts may be more than what is estimated, expenditures may be less than estimated. But if each were close to the estimate, the loan of $85,000 would be necessary to finance the system for the year.

Expenditures
The board has estimated its expenditures as follows. General control $52,665. Instructional service $1,060,389. Auxiliary agencies and co-ordinate activities, $51,640. Plant operation $26,474. Maintenance of plant $80,000. Fixed charges $38,800. Debt service $169,619. Capital outlay, $38,989. A total of $1,728,576.

Estimated receipts are as follows. Balance on hand July 4, 1949 $125,000. Property tax $50,730,750 at twenty mills) $970,615. Delinquent tax, $31,461. State appropriation, $465,000. Tuition, non-resident pupils, $25,000. Temporary loan $85,000. Sales $500. Other sources, rentals and refunds, $26,000.

Fire Threatens Seventh Ward Home

Loss Of Over $500 Sustained In Early Morning Blaze

Destruction of the home of Luigi Suisi, of 211 S. Cedar street, was threatened in a blaze discovered at 4:07 a. m. this morning.

When firemen arrived on the scene, the entire cellar was a mass of flames, and a second alarm was sounded from Box 714, calling five companies into action.

Firemen succeeded in checking the blaze before it could spread through the home, but damage of more than $500 was done, Fire Chief Herman F. Steinbrink reports.

The fire is believed to have started from faulty wiring. Two alarms were answered for grass fires Thursday afternoon, one at 2:15 o'clock, calling Fourth ward firemen to the rear of Bailey's Service Station on Butler avenue; and the other at 2:35 called No. 5 department to Frank and Bradner avenues.

No. One company from Central station went to 39 North Beaver street, at 2 p. m. to remove a cat from a window sill.

More than one-third of marketed gas is used in oil and gas fields and in the production of carbon black, used in rubber manufacture more than in any other field.

Although Diaz rounded the Cape of Good Hope in 1488, no settlement was established in the area until the Dutch set up a station and fort in 1652.

Third Setback For Shostakovich In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—(INS)—The Philadelphia appearance of Soviet composer Dmitri Shostakovich was postponed until April 4 today—its third setback in as many days.

Originally a public rally had been scheduled for March 30, featuring the Russian artist, sponsored by the local chapter of the Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions.

However, Town Hall refused to grant the group a lease for that evening. The second setback came when the Broadwood hotel canceled arrangements for a 300-plate dinner in honor of Shostakovich, which was scheduled to be held before the meeting.

Mrs. Adele P. Margolis, described as executive secretary for the sponsoring group, said the new meeting would be held at the 5000-seat Met auditorium in north Philadelphia, and a quiet, private dinner will be given for Shostakovich before the affair.

Veterans groups in the city have issued strong protests against the Russian group, and served notice they would picket the meeting.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 25—(INS)—Being a funny man is hard work—but the comedians don't care because all work and no play makes jack.

One of the funniest guys in the rib-tickling racket is a character by the name of Jay C. Flippen. He also happens to be a tedious toiler and that is why he possesses more dough than a bakery mogul.

Many semesters before Flippen hied to Hollywood and needed a moving van to help him haul away his accretage, he wise-cracked his weighty way through six-a-day vaudeville acts, Shubert shows and a long line of Broadway reviews.

Real Old Timer
He used to play with Texas Guinan, Jack Benny and Penny Singleton when her stage name was Dorothy McNulty.

He has been master of ceremonies on dozens of radio quiz shows, injected fine wit and humor into broadcasts of the New York Yankees' baseball contests, and M. C.'d so many New York benefits that he became known as the "poor man's Georgie Jessel."

Jay C. currently is accumulating enough jack to hoist a Mack truck off the pavement by working for producer Jessel in a thing entitled "Oh, you beautiful doll," out at Col. Darryl Zanuck's 20th Century-Fox film factory.

Plenty of Hair
Flippen, who owns enough hair to start a mattress factory, once inspired Jessel to ad lib:

"I'm going to put on a pair of old pants and shoes and rough it in Flippen's hair."

Jessel claims that some of the best comedians have pliffed Flippen's "Flippen-ies." Such as:

"You can never tell about a girl—and if you can't." Or: "an optimist is a fellow who doesn't care what happens, as long as it doesn't happen to him." Or: "a gal can always tell the kind of a heel she was out with the night before by the way her soul feels the next morning."

Squelches Heckler
Flippen's squelcher to a heckling drunk in a nightclub has become a classic. The comedian hollered: "Will somebody please open that bottle so he can find his way back." And when another comic said to him: "Gee, I wish I'd thought of that," Flippen replied tersely: "You will."

We asked Flippen—who portrays a bartender in "Oh, You Beautiful Doll"—if he ever gets nervous before going on the stage or in front of the cameras. He answered: "Nope. After all these years I've developed a cauliflower heart."

The Golden Bull was an edict issued by Charles IV of Bohemia in 1356, and was so-called from the golden case in which the seal attached to it was enclosed. It was intended to settle the law of imperial elections.

More Praise Is Accorded Firemen

Dr. J. E. Davis Also Thanks Department For Saving Building In Church Fire

Additional praise has been accorded city firemen for their splendid work Sunday morning, in the fire which destroyed the Central Presbyterian church, for saving surrounding property, which included his building, just west of the church.

His letter to Fire Chief Steinbrink, follows: Mr. Herman F. Steinbrink, Chief of Fire Department. Dear Sir:

Wish to express my appreciation to you personally and also the members of the department for the wonderful service which the men rendered at the fire in the Central Presbyterian church, and for saving the adjacent buildings. The men worked under "terrible climatic conditions," and certainly deserve a lot of praise for their efforts.

Many thanks to you and all concerned.

RESPECTFULLY,
DR. J. EMERSON DAVIS

State Will Paint Three Bridges In County In Spring

Pennsylvania Department of Highways will let contracts for the painting of three Lawrence County bridges on April 8, 1949, according to announcement from the department office in Harrisburg.

The three bridges are a part of eight in Western Pennsylvania that will be painted during the coming weeks. Largest among the structures to receive new paint is the Grant street bridge on Route 422 in this city. It has been several years since the bridge was painted.

The other two bridges include one in North Beaver Township on Legislative Route 37009, Traffic route 551, south of Mt. Jackson while the third structure is located in Neshannock and Hickory Townships, Legislative Route 37039, near the Jack Gerson camp.

Run-Down On Hurlers . . .

Boston Braves Have High Hopes Hugh Antonelli Will Produce

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, March 23.—A fast rundown on National league pitching may or may not be offered by reports that the pennant winning Boston Braves are depending on a 19-year-old ex-high school star as a starting hurler.

The young man in question is Johnny Antonelli, who appeared in only four games with Boston last year and has no minor league experience.

Maybe the Braves' "three little steam shovels" and only trying to realize something on the $75,000 bonus investment which Antonelli represents. At any rate, he is slated to go onto the firing line along with Johnny Sain, Warren Spahn and Vern Bickford.

Not Hunting Pitchers

Whether or not he can deliver under such circumstances, the Braves don't seem to be hunting for pitchers. Sain's 24 victories last year marked the third time he has won more than 20 games, and Spahn may recover his 21-game form of 1947. He won 15 last year.

The Braves have three other pitchers who won 20 or more games in past seasons. They are Bill Voiselle, Red Barrett and Johnny Beazley. A strong comeback by the ailing Beazley, who was worthless last year, would be all to the good as far as Manager Billy Southworth is concerned.

Without appreciable help from Beazley, Antonelli or Glenn Elliott, school-teaching rookie up from Milwaukee, the Braves' hurlers managed to win six more games than the second place St. Louis Cards last year.

How Teams Shape Up

Have any of the other clubs been strengthened enough to close that gap? The way they shape up: St. Louis—definitely weakened by deal which sent Murry Dickson to the Pirates; staff lacks depth from wheelhorses like Harry Brecheen, George Munger and Howie Pollet; aging and rookie crop not overly promising.

Dodgers—Rex Barney, Ralph Branca and Preacher Roe for a nucleus. Half a dozen minor league graduates could make a whale of a difference, one way or the other.

Pirates—Much improved on paper with Hugh Casey (Brooklyn), Dickson (Cards), Chambers (Cubs) and Bob Muncie (Cleveland) picked up by David Harms, Roy Hamer and Bill Meyer.

Giants—Last year's indifferent crew virtually unaltered. Fellows like Larry Jansen, Sheldon Jones and Mont Kennedy still developing.

Reds—All depends on Ewell Blackwell, who had that kidney operation on top of last season's chronic arm trouble. Carload of youngsters could ease burden for Johnny Vander Meer and company.

Cubs—Added Walt Dubiel and Dutch Leonard, Philly vets; drafted Dwain Sloat and likely rookies.

Phillies—Change of scenery may give ex-Cubs Hank Borowy and Russ Meyer a shot in arm. Some nifty newcomers.

Robinson-Lee Scrap Tonight

Expect 12,000 To See Sugar Ray Battle Baltimore Boy, Title Not At Stake

CHICAGO, March 25.—(INS)—A crowd of 12,000 is expected at Chicago Stadium tonight to see welterweight champion Ray Robinson, the 4-to-1 choice, take on troublesome Bobby Lee of Baltimore in a ten round over-the-weight match.

The card, which will offer three other ten-rounders, will gross between $40,000 and $50,000, in the opinion of promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun.

Jo Weidin, Jack Dempsey's heavyweight protege from Austria, opposes Orlan Ott of Chicago in the ten-round semi-windup. In one of the other two ten-rounders, Sylvester Perkins of Chicago faces middleweight Artie Towne of New York, while in the other Irish Bill Daly of Boston confronts Chicago's George Sherman at 153 pounds.

NIGHT EXHIBITION
The Giants and Pirates, meanwhile, were paired tonight for something of a spring training novelty—a night exhibition game at Gilmore field, the park of the Hollywood Stars. A co-feature calls for a special award to Mrs. Claire Hedgson Ruth, widow of baseball's enduring hero.

It will be a replica of the "Babe Ruth" float, with which Ventura county took honors in the last Tournament of Roses pageant.

TIGERS BLANK YANKS
The hitless, Di Maggio-less Yankees were back at their St. Petersburg base for a game with the Phillies, having returned downcast from a 5-0 beating by the Tigers at Lakeland yesterday.

SATCHEL WINS ONE
Meantime, the worlds champion Indians did two noteworthy things yesterday. They "un-slumped" themselves by beating the Cubs, 7-4, at Hollywood, Calif. They unveiled elderly Satchel Paige, the leathery, old bag of bones, as a possible starting pitcher this year.

And old Satch worked three scoreless innings to open the game with eclat and acclaim.

Crystals To Play Youngstown Five

Undefeated Crystal "Big Five" Will Meet Ritz Team In Girard Tourney

The Crystal "Big Five" basketball team, undefeated to date, will battle the Youngstown Ritz team in a quarter-final round game at the Girard, Ohio, tourney tonight. The players are to meet at the Crystal at 6:30 o'clock. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Quite a large crowd will follow the Bill Patton coached flippers to the Ohio city. The Ritz team defeated the strong Akron Nelsons to get into the quarter-finals. The Crystals trimmed the Newton Falls Legion, 60-28, to gain the quarter-finals spot.

The Crystal "Big Five" is favored to win the Girard title this year. The addition of McCullough Mayberry and Hyder, along with Wimer, Carl Jameson and Wayne Gray gives the locals a "hot" club.

Army's 1948 eastern champions will provide the opposition for Penn State in the 1949 football opener.

BATBOY CONTEST EXCITES YOUTHS

The batboy contest being planned by the New Castle Nats of the Middle Atlantic league has the young boys of New Castle really excited. The contest is the talk whenever two youngsters meet.

Who will win? Mike Cannavino, president of the Nats, and Billy Mongiello, playing-manager, are still working out details and will be ready to announce them in a few days.

Universals Will Meet Saturday

Members of the Universal AA baseball team will have a meeting at the Hi-Spot Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, it was announced today by W. J. Alexander, business manager. Coach "Huck" Davies requests that all of the 1948 players show up and any others interested in playing with the Potters this summer, in the city league.

BRAVES SCALP SOX

At the same time, the National league champion Braves again had that Indian sign working against the rival Red Sox at Bradenton, Fla., winning this time by 8-4. The Braves' Johnny Sain was good; the Sox Joe Dobson and Dave Ferriss weren't.

Illinois Athletic Commission Is Put On Spot

PLAN MEETING FOR SATURDAY

Joe Louis And Partners Seek Official Sanction For Charles-Walcott Bout

By CHARLES EINHSTEIN (International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, March 25.—The Illinois Athletic commission, which could cause trouble but almost assuredly won't, has ordered a special meeting for tomorrow to approve the official details of the Ezzard Charles-Joe Walcott heavyweight championship fight.

Indications of the newly-appointed commission's willingness to go along with promoters Joe Louis and Arthur Wirtz were seen yesterday when, at Louis' request, commission chairman Joe Triner called tomorrow's non-scheduled session.

The commission will have to: 1. Issue a promotional license to the Louis-Wirtz-James Norris International Boxing club. 2. Okay the contracts of Charles and Walcott, who will be present. 3. Ratify an exact site and date, which to this point are specific only in that the fight will be in Chicago, and in June. 4. Certify the fight as a title contest.

The last point, at least, is one which might merit spirited debate. Heated Protest

The National Boxing association, which controls the sport in Illinois and everywhere else of importance except New York, has already sanctioned the Charles-Walcott bout as a title fight.

Not everyone has held with this view, however. In Cincinnati, for instance, promoter Sam Becker has angled for the fight and, failing to get it, cried out that the NBA has no right to sanction one fight for a vacated title without first having an elimination tournament. It might be, for instance, that Illinois will recognize the Charles-Walcott fight as a title bout but that Cincinnati won't.

Some other questions are of immediate interest, too—especially whether the Charles-Walcott set will go indoors or outdoors. Comiskey park, home of the Chicago White Sox and a good outdoor ballyard for a fight, will be free from June 17 on. Proper promotion and title sanction could bring 40,000 or more spectators into the place, at stiff title-fight prices.

On the other hand, Wirtz and Norris own the Chicago stadium, world's largest indoor arena. Although you can get only 20,000 or so into the stadium, you can charge higher prices. And that proposition would be not only rent free, but weather proof.

United, Shines Y League Champs

United Downs Legion 39 to 29; G.I. Edges Rebels 41 To 37 In Playoff Matches

Two more league champions were decided at the Y last night. Both United A.A. and the G.I. Shines were extended to the third games of the playoff series between the first and second half champs of their leagues.

United, C-I victor in the first half and Optimist tourney champs, had the easiest time last night besting the Legion, 39 to 29. The new title bearers had won the first game of the series, 27 to 26, in overtime Monday and then were upset, 37 to 32, the following night.

United Leads Last night the determined Engineers got off to a 6 to 5 lead in the first period and increased their margin each quarter to coast home. Harp Janacone led the winners with 18 markers, Kerr and Robinson threw in key two-pointers late in the game to keep United in the lead.

Bill Erce topped the Legion point makers with a pair of field goals and eight fouls on a like number of attempts. G.I. Shines found the right combination to down the Rebels, 41 to 37. The Shines were laced 40 to 27 by the same team Wednesday night.

Wimer Connects The Rebels led in the contest, 18 to 5, during the second period. The score was tied 26 all as action in the final chapter got under way. Fred Wimer, big gun in the winner's attack with 16, came through with a brace of fgs. late in the game to give the G.I. five the bumping.

Ran Walford and Carikito accounted for 19 points for the Rebels.

County League Opens May 1

The Lawrence County Baseball league was assured a minimum of six entries and possibly eight, at the loop meeting last night at the Sporting Goods store.

Ellwood VFW, St. Lucy's, Bessemer, Wampum Victory club, New Galilee and Koppel have already made a deposit on their franchise fee and it was stated that two more clubs are interested in joining the county circuit.

President Alce Samuels was in charge of the meeting. After a short discussion, the election of officers and selecting a commissioner was tabled until the next meeting.

Umpire-League Relations Umpire-league relations was an important topic last night and it is anticipated that a smooth working agreement between these two important organizations can be accomplished.

The six managers present discussed the by-laws and adopted the constitution for the coming season. A minor change limits the number of players that may be under contract at any one time to 30. No player may be signed after July 10.

Final details for the coming diamond season will be ironed out at the next meeting Thursday, April 7, and play gets underway May 1.

Training Camp News In Brief (NS)

(By International News Service)

Branch Rickey's surplus stock of ballfield robots found itself cast in a role of sudden, if temporary, prominence today while several major league encampments chattered freely of possible trades.

This always absorbing topic followed "business" visits to Brooklyn's Vero Beach base yesterday by Cincinnati's Warren Giles and Giant Scout Hank DeBerry.

Some of Brooklyn's "arrested" talent came in for speculative attention as an aftermath.

Including infielders Eddie Miksis and Bob Ramazzotti, outfielder Dick Whitman and pitcher Erv Palica. Still it may be well to keep this in mind:

A training camp is the place where trades are "talked," never made.

CARDINALS PUZZLED

The Cards, by the way, were still wondering what happened to them in the ninth yesterday at St. Pete's waterfront park when "Runaway Richie" Ashburn scored from second base with the winning run on an infield hit. It was the Phillies' second straight ninth-inning win by the same score, 5-4.
